1. General Information.

Organization.

On July 8, 1850, a number of gentlemen met in the city of Tuscaloosa, and after enthusiastic consultation formed themselves into THE ALABAMA HISTORICAL SOCIETY. A constitution, prepared by Dr. Basil Manly, who was the chief promoter of the organization, was adopted. Chancellor Alexander Bowie was elected President, with a full list of other officials. Among the distinguished men who assisted in forming the Society were Bishop N. H. Cobbs, Col. A. J. Pickett, Dr. L. C. Garland, E. D. King, Esq., Hon. Washington Moody, Dr. Joshua H. Foster, J. T. Wallace, Esq., Judge J. J. Ormond and Prof. M. Tuomey.

Objects.

As declared in the Constitution, "The object of the Society is to discover, procure, preserve and diffuse whatever may relate to the natural, civil, literary and ecclesiastical history of the State of Alabama, and of the States in connection with her."

"The plan of our operations is one of vast magnitude, and the materials to be collected of almost endless variety. No one department of human research confines our system. It covers every subject of the natural history of the State in the animal, vegetable, and mineral kingdoms. It spreads its wide embrace to receive the record of every important event, either past, or now transpiring, in our civil, religious, social and individual history," etc., etc. (Executive Committee's Report, 1851.)

History.

The first annual meeting was held July 14, 1851, at the University of Alabama, and for about ten years, with more or less regularity, these meetings were held chiefly during the commencements. In 1852 it was incorporated by Act of the Legislature. During the four years of the war all work was suspended, and many of the papers taken away and destroyed. It was not until 1874, under the inspiration of Dr. Joshua H. Foster, who had been the first Secretary, that a revival was effected. For some time there was great interest, and in this period the Alabama Historical Reporter had a brief existence.

Enthusiasm, however, did not long continue, and recently very little has been done except to keep up a nominal organization. Excepting the Reporter, which consisted of twenty-nine numbers, 1879-1885, the entire issues of the Society comprise but seven pamphlets, 1850-1898.

Publication : Special Work.

As the publication of work is regarded as the most important matter to be accomplished by the Society, it is the intention of the management to use all possible means in this direction. The Annual Series, to contain the yearly proceedings and papers, will be maintained. As soon as possible a Miscellaneous Series, to be issued at irregular intervals, and to consist principally of original or special material, will be commenced. Competent persons will be sought out and induced to undertake the preparation of Reminiscences, County and Town Histories, Biographies, Genealogies, and Institutional Studies. Direct effort will be made to induce the formation of local or special historical societies in various parts of the State. Special steps will be taken to secure the preparation of histories of the various commands from Alabama in all wars. Correspondence with Learned and other Societies, and Educational Institutions, will be had, inviting co-operation and the encouragement of historical work and researches among their members and students. Plans will also be perfected for ultimately securing a fire proof home for the Society and its collections.

Members will receive all current publications free of charge.

Library and Collections.

With a view to increasing the usefulness and value of the library of the Society, contributions are earnestly solicited. Its collections are now deposited by courtesy in the library of the University of Alabama. Books and pamphlets, of any and every character printed in or about the State, or by Alabamians, historical books and pamphlets of all kinds, original manuscripts and documents, original historical sketches, maps, old newspaper files, and every description of relic, are specially desired. The manuscripts and sketches will be published as opportunity is presented; and all other contributions acknowledged and preserved.

Legislative Aid.

Since the annual meeting, June 21, 1898, the General Assembly has patriotically rallied to the assistance of the Society, and an appropriation of two hundred and fifty dollars annually, for two years, has been made to aid in the publication of its transactions and papers. This insures the certain issuance of the projected publications. The character of the work to be done will be a guarantee that this appropriation will never be cut off, but in the future will be materially increased.

Alabama History Commission.

Another act also was passed to create the Alabama History Commission, to consist of five members, its duties in a general way being to make for the use of the next session of the General Assembly a full and exhaustive report on the sources and materials, manuscript, documentary and record, of the history of the State from the earliest times.

The Governor has appointed the following members: Chairman, Thomas M. Owen, Esq., Carrollton; Dr. W. S. Wyman, University of Alabama; Col. Sam Will John, Birmingham; Peter J. Hamilton, Esq., Mobile, and Prof. C. C. Thach, Ala. Pol. Ins., Auburn.

The work of this body is most important and will be far reaching in its results. Its report is to be printed. The Governor is then required to present the report to the General Assembly, with "a plan for permanently fostering historic interest and the preservation of the records, archives and history of the State." There can be no doubt as to the proper performance of the duties enjoined upon the Commission, and it should have the co-operation of every person in the State.

Appeal.

Appeal is made to the friends of historical pursuits everywhere, and to Alabamians in particular, for aid in re-establishing the Society upon a firm basis. Societies in other States are in flourishing condition, having splendid edifices for their collections, and are the recipients of large donations in books and money. Alabama, with her variety of riches, with a people cultivated and ambitious, and a history grand and noble, should no longer remain backward but go forward in support of the Society as becomes her wealth and position.

H. Personal and Press Endorsements.

Extracts from Letters.

HIS EXCELLENCY, GOVERNOR JOSEPH F. JOHNSTON,
Montgomery:

"A people who fail to honor the memories of their great men can not hope to add to them. We owe it to those coming after us to be diligent now, when the survivors are so rapidly passing away, to preserve the glorious deeds of the sons of Alabama in the War between the States. Organized effort can alone produce effective results and for this reason the Historical Society should be fostered and strengthened."

RT. REV. RICHARD H. WILMER,
Bishop of Alabama, Mobile:

"I feel a deep interest in the undertaking."

RT. REV. EDWARD P. ALLEN, Bishop of Mobile:

"It will give me pleasure to become a member of the Alabama Historical Society and to contribute in any way in my power to further the interests of the Society."

RT. REV. HENRY MELVILLE JACKSON,
Assistant Bishop of Alabama, Montgomery:

"I am very heartily in sympathy with your endeavor, and I beg you to enroll me as a member of the Society, and I would have you to believe that I am not willing to be merely a member of your Society, but a co-adjutor in any work you may undertake on these lines."

DR. GEORGE R. FAIRBANKS,
Historian of Florida, Fernandina, Fla.:

"I am very much interested in the preservation and publication of the historical records relating to our Southern States and am glad to see the active interest being taken in your State through your Society in the furtherance of this object. I wish I could see a similar spirit prevailing in Florida."

DR. WILLIAM LEROY BROWN,
President Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn:

"So far as possible I will be glad to advance the interests of the Society."

DR. J. L. M. CURRY,
Agent Peabody and the Slater Funds, Washington, D. C.:

"You do not know how much I am gratified at the resurrection of the old Historical Society. She is not dead but sleepeth. I felt sure that it would live again under your intelligent zeal and unquenchable historic spirit. I shall be glad to be continued a member."

HON. JOHN HOLLIS BANKHEAD, M. C., Fayette:

"Although busily engaged in current business and political affairs, I am greatly interested in the complete success of the Historical Society. Its purposes are patriotic. Its demands are so small financially that they need embarrass no one. The results must fill all our people with pride and satisfaction."

DR. J. K. POWERS, President University of Alabama:

"This is a critical time in the history of the Society. The time has come when it must do some actual work, and make publication of that work. It is gratifying to note the promising outlook."

DR. B. F. MEEK, School of English, University of Alabama:

"I shall be very glad to aid you in any way to promote the interests of the Alabama Historical Society."

DR. J. H. PHILLIPS,

Superintendent Public Schools, Birmingham:

"The State should have a strong organization of this character, and through the activity of its membership ought to make an interesting collection of historical papers that would be accessible to the student of Alabama history."

MRS. ROBERT CUNNINGHAM, (nee MARY SUE

EVERHART), Birmingham:

"I assure you that it will give me pleasure to enter into its work with the sincere interest I feel."

HON. A. E. CAFFEE,

State Senator and Railroad Commissioner, Marion:

"I am profoundly impressed with the noble purposes of the Alabama Historical Society, and my active support and co-operation may be relied upon."

MISS LOUISE MANLY, Judson Institute, Marion:

"I am glad that the Alabama Historical Society is putting forth new life. I am happy to join."

REV. GREENOUGH WHITE,

Professor of Church History, University of the South,
Sewanee, Tenn.:

"It will give me pleasure to have my name enrolled upon the list of members of the Society. Having contributed a mite to your local history (Life of Bishop Cobb), I am naturally interested in it, and in learning more about it."

MRS. W. M. EASBY-SMITH, Washington, D. C.:

"I shall ever deem it a privilege, as a faithful member of the organization to render any service within the limit of my capacity."

THOMAS M. OWEN, ESQ., Secretary, Carrollton:

"All Alabamians should belong to the Society. This is true, although many may never be able to attend its meetings. The consciousness of having contributed to such a cause is ennobling. The effect of membership is not altogether to minister to a demand of the individual. It means co-operation, and support of a great movement. The publications will be of enduring value and go to all alike; so while one may never attend the formal meetings, the really valuable part of the Society's work is constantly at hand on our library shelves."

Press Comments.

THE MOBILE REGISTER:

"Every resident of the State should be on its rolls; * * * to its library and archives should be sent all old books, newspapers, documents, relics, etc., for preservation; the library and collections are constantly increasing in value, and must form the basis for the work of the future student; * * * its publications will be valuable not only to every citizen but as well to non-residents, who desire to know more of the State; the present revival of the Society is encouraged by the leading educators, the State officials, and numerous students everywhere."

THE MONTGOMERY ADVERTISER:

"Its work, if properly encouraged can but be highly entertaining and instructive to the present and future citizens of the State. * * * We heartily and earnestly commend the objects of this Society to our readers, and hope it will receive the assistance and encouragement it deserves."

THE BIRMINGHAM NEWS:

"A commendable effort is now being made to revive interest in the work of the Alabama Historical Society and place the organization upon a high plane as one of the necessary institutions of the State. * * * The movement is one which appeals to every Alabamian for support."

THE EDUCATIONAL EXCHANGE, Birmingham:

"The Society announces that before any extensive plan can be definitely announced, a paid membership must be secured and interest aroused in every quarter of the State. It is a Society in which every intelligent and patriotic citizen of Alabama can feel and take an interest, and such are earnestly requested to become members. Contributions in money or books for the library are earnestly solicited. Old, odd books, are of especial value, and it may be that many people in Alabama can present to the Society a valuable collection of something that is old, but yet valuable."

THE TUSKALOOSA GAZETTE:

"Help preserve the history of Alabama by becoming a substantial supporter of the Historical Society."

THE BESSEMER WEEKLY:

"Liberal-minded and enterprising citizens should identify themselves with the work."

THE SOUTHERN HOME, Livingston:

"The Alabama Society would be glad to have sent to its library and archives all old newspapers, books, documents, relics and anything that will assist in collating the history of the State."

THE RANDOLPH LEADER:

"The benefits of such an institution are obvious, and it should have the encouragement of every citizen."
